

Meeting The Specifications:

- jQuery vader theme
- jQuery-UI select menu on game.html
- AJAX used with the select menu on game.html
- Float-labels.js plug on support.html

Feedback

I was given a comment on part one that said I need to include a gallery or interactive images. I have since then added interactive images on index.html and about.html.

Reflection

I think I did a good job meeting the needs of the stakeholders. The only thing I failed to complete in time was a second AJAX request, which should request from an external website. In the future, I hope to add the second AJAX request in the future. I also would like to make the game change more CSS than the color and background color.
